

Dr Markku Saraheimo, University of Helsinki

A doctor of medicine, with a specialisation in Internal Medicine, Markku is now the Deputy Chief Physician at Helsinki City Hospital/Laakso, and Member of the Innodia Patient Advisory Board. Markku Saraheimo has been living with T1D for many years as well as being the father of a 22-year old who has also lived most of her life with T1D.