

Sabine Dupont

Sabine Dupont holds an MA in English and German from Paris XII University, France, and has extensive communication and advocacy experience in the diabetes and life science/pharmaceutical arenas.

Sabine has previously worked as Senior Advocacy Manager at the International Diabetes Federation (2017-2019) and prior to this as Europe Director for the Society of Laboratory Automation and Screening, General Manager for the Alliance for Advanced Therapies and General Manager Europe for the International Society of Pharmaceutical Engineering (ISPE). She currently works as Senior Consultant for Policy and Projects with International Diabetes Federation Europe, where she is in charge of EU-funded research projects as well as IDF Europe's policy and advocacy work.