I have been living with Type 1 diabetes since 2011. I am currently working as a digital product manager. My interests include education, kickboxing, car racing, tennis, reading, cooking, music, swimming, and art. My main motivation and drive for joining the YLL and to advocate for diabetes is that I really really love people. The fact that I have diabetes just made me see a lot of things in a different way and I feel that helping people who are going through the same problems as I do is my way of giving something back to the community. I strongly believe that if you want to make a change, you have to be part of it.
