

László Ujváry

I was diagnosed with type 1 diabetes in 2015. As an ophthalmology resident, I see a whole lot of people with diabetic complications in my practice, and I want to help them the best I can. I think that getting into the bloodstream of the international diabetes community, interacting with other patients and colleagues could help me a lot.

