

Milla Friman

I started to take part in this in 1999. Personally, I work as a researcher in the field of atmospheric sciences pursuing a PhD with a special interest in environmental sensors – glucose sensors may have brought me to this field. Being part of YOURAH network I can keep in touch with other diabetes advocates across the Europe and exchange new ideas to provide two-sided support to European youth in the diabetes community.

