

Vasiliki Avrampou

I am 29 years old and I am from Greece. I was diagnosed with Type 1 diabetes when I was 14 years old. This "sweet" change in my life led me to become a nurse and specialize in diabetes. I work at the General Children's Hospital of Athens, "Panagiotis & Aglaia Kyriakou", and every day I come into contact with several children who have diabetes. This is something that gives me great joy as I help my little friends adjust to the new change in their lives. What made me join Yourah was the opportunity to exchange views and ideas about diabetes management in our daily lives.
